ENERGicloud is a networking site for those working in the energy industry.

Created to bridge the gap between individuals, groups and organisations, ENERGicloud provides a solution for better dialogue, collaboration and knowledge sharing. With dedicated blogs, groups and forums its aim is to become the virtual home for the sharing of energy, environmental and carbon information.

ENERGicloud is an inclusive site and welcomes the whole supply chain from consumers to suppliers, consultants to lawyers, technology specialists to government officials and from infrastructure specialists to local authorities.

Visit energicloud.com, register for free and interact with other energy, environmental and carbon professionals.
